

Ensuring the Protection of Children Alone in Their Search for Safety

Unaccompanied children around the world are fleeing violence and persecution from which their countries cannot protect them and are searching for safety.

Most unaccompanied children in the U.S. come from Honduras, El Salvador, and Guatemala – three of the most dangerous countries in the world.

They need our help.

Our Vision

A world in which children's rights and well-being are protected as they migrate alone in search of safety.

Our Mission

Ensure that no child appears in immigration court without high quality legal representation.

Advance laws, policies, and practices that ensure children's protection and uphold their right to due process and fundamental fairness.

Promote in countries of origin, transit, and destination durable solutions to child migration that are grounded in the best interests of the child and ensure that no child is forced to involuntarily migrate.

IMMIGRATION JUDGES ARE 100 TIMES MORE LIKELY
TO GRANT LEGAL RELIEF TO UNACCOMPANIED
CHILDREN WITH COUNSEL THAN TO THOSE WITHOUT.¹

Leandro's Story

Leandro* fled to the U.S. when he was 15 years old after being threatened and extorted by gangs and the police in El Salvador. A KIND pro bono attorney represented Leandro in his asylum case and immigration proceedings and successfully helped him gain U.S. protection. Leandro went on to take college courses and enlisted with the U.S. Marines. He said:

"I want to show that people who come to the U.S. from other countries come here to succeed and do good and help others."
